

It is respectfully requested that the above amendment of the claims be entered because it is needed to fully protect Applicant's rights by providing specific coverage for the preferred compound of the instant invention. The support for the new claims may be found specifically on page 12, lines 7 and 8, Example 1 and claims 2 and 3.

The entering of this Amendment will not require an additional search or examination; nor will it require any substantial additional work on the part of the Patent and Trademark Office. The claims were not earlier presented because it was only during a review of the application prior to paying the final fee that it was noticed the claims had not been added to the application. The new claims are patentable because they are directed only to the subject matter which has already been allowed and does not broaden the scope of the claims or introduce new matter.

In view of the foregoing amendments and comments, it is believed that the new claims 32 and 33 are proper; and therefore, it is respectfully requested that the new claims be entered under 37 CFR 1.312.

Respectfully submitted

DANIEL BERNEY
